My dear friends,

I am writing to let you know that Archdeacon Jonathan Crane has accepted my appointment to serve at the parish of Holy Trinity, Edmonton, and so will be leaving his role as Rector at St. Augustine's. His last Sunday in the parish will be November 23, 2025.

I understand that this will come as a surprise to many of you. This decision was not made lightly, but with much prayer and consideration. Jonathan has served faithfully and well at St. Augustine's for the past 13 years, and will miss serving as your priest. I ask for your prayers for Jonathan as he navigates this transition.

This will place the parish in a time of discernment and transition. I have asked the Rev. Stephanie London to serve as your half time interim while you discern your needs and run your search process. Rev. Stephanie recently provided Sunday supply at your parish, but she has been serving at St. Columba's in Beaumont for the last six years. She will begin her interim on November 30th, 2025.

I know this will begin a time of consideration and discernment and my prayers are with you as you support one another and proclaim the Good News to each other and your community.

In Christ,

Bishop Stephen London
Diocese of Edmonton
